"This was an excellent fit, as there's a great deal of synergy between our two companies. We were working closely towards this goal for the past year," says Wasim Thaha, co-founder of TNT, a director of Newsfile Corp. and current chairman of XBRL Canada. "We're looking forward to providing a broader suite of services to our clients, including news dissemination. Our clients will benefit greatly from the combination of these two companies and you can expect the quality of service that we have become known for to continue."
